a decision just rendered and forwarded to Acting Postmaster W. Ross Southward, holds that the new eight-hour law applies only to letter carriers in the city deliver; service and clerks in inst and second class post-offices, as distinguished from officers of supervisory rank.

The law was passed by Congress last summer as part, of a general plan to shorten 'the' hours of post-office employes and to do away as far as possible with Sunday work. The Sunday closing law was first interpreted to heath that no deliveries or distributions of any kind could be made on the Sabbath, but was later interpreted to liens of any kind could be made on the Sabbath, but was later interpreted to liens of any kind could be made on the Sabbath, but was later interpreted by former Postmaster-General Hitch. just rendered and forwarded meeting of the Council Committee on sible with Sunday work. The Sunday closing law was first interpreted to mean that no deliveries or distributions of any kind could be made on the Sabbath, but was later interpreted by former Postmaster-General Hitchcock as permitting a limited Sunday service in the larger offices. Adderman Nelsen and his associates, and so determine exactly what that come as permitting a limited Sunday service in the larger offices. The eighthour law was aimed chiefly at offices of lower rank, where instances of excessively long work days were common.

Under the comptroller's ruling, the eight-hour law, which limits the working day to eight hours, which must fall within a ten-hour period, will not apply: to assistant postmasters and such supervisory officers as superintendents and assistant superintendents of delivery, mails, money order and foremen, watchmen and laborers and certification of the classes enumerated, will not be entitled to neditional compensation for service performed in excess of eight hours a day.

In this decision the comptroller also nolds that letter carriers and clerks are not entitled to pay for overtime aniess they perform services in excess of eight hours a day, without regard to the observance or nonobservance of the provision that the eight hours of work shall not extend over a longer period than ten consecutive hours.

Negro Arrested on Charge of Having Drug in Ills Possession.

Irving Davis, colored, was arrested yesterday morning by Bleycle Policeman Tiller at Ninth and Turpin Streets on the charge of having cocaine in his possession. It was only after a stiff fight that the negro was subdued and taken into custody.

Tiller received information that Davis had a quantity of "coke" in his possession. When the officer approached the negro denied that he had the drug and said he was willing to be searched. If had three packages, which he told Tiller he might examine. Two were opened and when Tiller asked to see the contents of the third Davis protested, saying it contained nothing of value. Tiller insisted and the fight followed. A citizen came to the assistance of the policeman and the "nippers" were quickly slipped on Dayle's wrist. When the package he refused to let Tiller open was examined it was found to contain five bottles, each of which, it was alleged, was filled with the drug. It will be turned over to the City Chemist to be analyzed.

PLANNING NEW HOSPITAL

Drs. Johnston and Willis Interested in Rocky Mount Institution.

Plans are being prepared by Architects Carneal & Johnston, of this city, for a new hospital to be erected at Rocky Mount, N. C., by an association of physicians, headed by Dr. George Ben Johnston and Dr. A. Murat Willis, of this city. They will have several local physicians as their associates in the management of the new institution, and the Richmond surgeous will go to Rocky Mount from time to time for the purpose of performing operations.

The new hospital will provide beds for seventy-four patients, and will cost approximately 35,000. The architects state that the plans will be ready for inspection of contractors early in April.
